Table of Contents

Introduction: Making Space for Juris-Dictions Nan Goodman, University of Colorado at Boulder nan.goodman@colorado.edu

Space Authors
Speaking the Language of Law: A Juris-dictionary Primer Marianne Constable, University of California, Berkeley constable@berkeley.edu

The Jurisdiction of the Writers Guild to Determine Authorship of Movies and Television Programs Catherine L. Fisk, School of Law, University of California, Irvine cfisk@law.uci.edu

Writing Law and Speaking Justice in Late Eighteenth-Century Britain Miriam Wallace, New College of Florida mwallace@ncf.edu

Politics by Other Means: Legal Poetics, Prison Narrative Doran Larson, Hamilton College dlarson@hamilton.edu

“Reality” Jurisdiction
Hospitality, the Perry Narrative, and the “Opening of Japan” Andrew Elliott, University of Kyoto elliott00@gmail.com

Home as Nomic Setting: Seeing how the Legal Happens David Delaney, Amherst College dpdelaney@amherst.edu

Reconstructing State and Federal Jurisdiction in A Fool’s Errand and The Clansman Brook Thomas, University of California, Irvine bthomas@uci.edu
Neighbors, Witnesses, and Outlaws in the Later Middle Ages Jamie Taylor, Bryn Mawr College jktaylor@brynmawr.edu

“Still lookeing towards the place”: John Winthrop’s Erotics of Jurisdiction Brant M. Torres, Cornell University bmt42@cornell.edu

The Justice of Jurisdiction: The Policing and Breaching of Boundaries in Orson Welles’s Touch of Evil Austin Sarat, Amherst College adsarat@amherst.edu
&
Martha Merrill Umphrey, Amherst College mmumphrey@amherst.edu

The Curves of Justice: Spatial Metaphors in the Courtroom Novel Robert A. Ferguson, Columbia University ferguson@law.columbia.edu

Casting Lots, Cannibalism, and Contracts in William Dean Howells’s A Modern Instance Alicia Mischa Renfroe, Middle Tennessee State University mrenfroe@mtsu.edu

Disciplines and Jurisdictions: A Historical Note Peter Goodrich, Yale University goodrich@yu.edu

Nomos as a Problem for Disciplinary Reason Adam Sitze, Amherst College asitze@amherst.edu

Beyond the Pale: The Supreme Court Opinion in Rights Disputes Emily Calhoun, University of Colorado Law School emily.calhoun@colorado.edu

The Space of a Poem: Baudelaire in the Place du Carrousel Matthew Anderson, University of New England manderson@une.edu
“We Are Seven” and the First British Census 201 Hollis Robbins, Johns Hopkins University hrobbins@jhu.edu

Privacy, Character, and the Jurisdiction of the Self: 215 A “Story of the Door” in The Strange Case of Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde Cathrine Frank, University of New England
CFrank@une.edu

Contributors 225